THE Interest and Responsibility of the Undersigned in the Chinese Mail, 華字日報 (Wah Tze Yat Po),
CEASED from the 1st August, 1877.
CHUN AYIN.

Hongkong, April 6, 1878.

NOTICE.
In Reference to the above, the Undersigned has LEASED the Chinese Mail from the 1st August, 1877, and has engaged the services of Mr LEONG YOOK CHUN, as Translator and General Manager of the newspaper, which under its new régime will be found to be, as hitherto, an excellent medium for advertising, especially as the Manager is able to devote his whole attention to the conduct of the Newspaper.
KONG CHIM,
Lessee of the Hongkong Chinese Mail.
Hongkong, April 6, 1878.

THE CHINESE MAIL.

PROM and after the Chinese New Year's day (February 17, 1874) the Chinese Mail will be issued DAILY instead of tri-weekly, as heretofore. No change, however, will be made in the price of subscription, which will remain at $4 per annum.
The charges for advertisements are now
assimilated to those of the Chinese Mail.
The unusual success which has attended the Chinese Mail makes it an admirable medium for advertisers.
The Conductors guarantee an eventual circulation of one thousand copies. It is already the most influential native journal published, and enjoys considerable prestige at the Ports of China and Japan, and at Singapore, Penang, Calcutta, San Francisco and Australia.

Price, $6, leather half bound.

The scope of this work includes detailed descriptions of important Sites and Monuments, notes on the CLIMATE and general TOPOGRAPHY, FAUNA, FLORA, GEOLOGY and METEOROLOGY of each Port and its neighbourhood, with HISTORICAL NOTICES and minute details respecting the rise and progress and social characteristics of the several foreign settlements. To these particulars are added summaries and statistics of the TRADE of each open Port, compiled from official returns, together with statements respecting COINAGE, CURRENCY, and EX-CHANGES, LINES of STEAM COMMUNICATION, DISTANCES, and rates of PASSAGE MONEY.
Hints, and recommendations to travellers,
giving full particulars of OUTFIT and mode of proceeding to the less frequented settlements are also included, combined with notes on DOMESTIC MARKETS and Mode of Living.

In addition to furnishing similar particulars, the Section devoted to Hongkong contains an historical sketch forming a chronological index of the chief events which occupied public attention between 1841 and 1865, including POLITICAL EVENTS, Changes in the GOVERNMENT SERVICE, the passing of important ORDINANCES, the ARRIVAL and DEPARTURE of EMINENT RESIDENTS, a record of the most notable PIRACIES, ROBBERIES, MURDERS, FRAUDS, FIRES and Criminal TRIALS, ADDRESSES and PRESENTATIONS, &c., &c.

The appendix contains full tables of the various steam companies' lines. It also includes a CATALOGUE of over 440 works published in the English language upon China and Japan, while a copious INDEX
at the end of the work affords a ready means of reference to the reader.

TRADE MARK.—Sanctioned by H. M. Government.

HEALTH, STRENGTH, & ENERGY.

Trade Mark—"PHOSPHODYNE."

Protected under the Trade Marks Act (38 and 39 Vict., ch. 91).—Enacted by the "Queen's Most Excellent Majesty," 20th August, 1875.

Certificates under this Act have been granted to Dr. R. D. LALOR, giving him the Sole Right the Trade Mark Phosphodyne in England, Australia, Africa, China, Canada, and India.

Discovered and so named, A.D. 1862, by R. D. LALOR, M.D.

Pleasant to the Taste. The only Safe, Prompt, and Reliable PHOSPHORIC REMEDY for Overworked Brain, Worry, Anxiety, Excitement, Late Hours, Business Pressure, Nervous Prostration, Wasting Diseases, Asthmatic, Consumptive, Stomach and Liver Complaints, Impaired Nutrition, Impoverished Blood, Premature Decline, and all morbid Conditions of the System dependent upon the deficiency of Vital Force.

PHOSPHODYNE

Purifies and Enriches the Blood; Clears the Skin; Thoroughly Invigorates the Brain, Nerves and Muscles; Re-energizes the Failing Functions of Life, and thus Imparts Energy and Fresh Vitality to the Exhausted Nerve-Electric Force; and Rapidly Cures every form of Nervous Debility, Paralysis, Nervous, Mind, and Heart Diseases, from whatever cause.

IMPORTANT TO EUROPEANS VISITING OR RESIDING IN HOT CLIMATES.—Dr. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE has an enormous Sale in India, China, Africa, and other Hot Climates, from its possessing in the most perfectly assimilable form the essential Vitalizing properties of Phosphorus, which re-animates the Exhausted Functions of Life when impaired by Heat or other causes. A very large number of Testimonials from all parts of the World, freely offered from private persons; Naval, Military, Scientific, and Professional Men who are well known, speak of its marvellous powers in Nervous Debility, Want of Stamina, Fevers, Malarious Diseases, and as a Liver Tonic.

Sold in Bottles at 4s. 6d. and 11s.

CAUTION.—The name, Dr. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE, is blown in the glass of each bottle, and the genuine PHOSPHODYNE is manufactured only at Dr. LALOR'S Laboratory, London, England.

Medicine Vendors are hereby warned that Legal Proceedings will be taken against all Persons selling the Fraudulent Imitation after this Notice.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.—Every bottle bears the British Government Stamp, with the words, Dr. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE, London, England, by Order of Her Majesty's Honourable Commissioners. IF NOT, IT IS A FORGERY.

DR. ROBERT D. LALOR,
OF BAY HOUSE, 32, GAINSBOROUGH ST., LONDON, ENGLAND.

(The Sole Proprietor and Originator of Phosphodyne.)

Is prepared to Prove the following Facts in any Court of Law in London, England, and he respectfully requests Medicine Vendors and the Public to assist the cause of Truth and Right, against Falsehood and Fraud.

A BASE FRAUD is being perpetrated by the Advertisement of Dr. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE in the Newspaper Press of India and the Colonies, the nature of which may be guessed from the fact that the originators of these Advertisements DO NOT, AND DARE NOT insert them in the Papers Published in the United Kingdom, neither may the Spurious Article, sought to be foisted upon the Public abroad, BE SOLD in the British Isles.

PHOSPHODYNE was Discovered and so named by Dr. R. D. LALOR in the year 1862.

The Title and Prospectus was duly Entered at Stationers' Hall, London, in the year 1864.

This Title, Prospectus, and Four of Dr. LALOR'S Testimonials, the dates of which have been fraudulently altered from 1865, 1866, and 1867, as in the Original Letters, to 1870, have been basely Pirated by the Parties Advertising the False Phosphodyne. Copies of Original Letters, with Prospectus, sent post free. The Genuine "PHOSPHODYNE" bears the Christian and Surname, with Address, as above; also the Registered Trade Mark, "PHOSPHODYNE," to copy which is Felony.

Appointed Agents for Dr. LALOR'S Phosphodyne in India and China.—

TREACHER & CO., Bombay, Bencoolen, and Poona;

SMITH, STANTON & CO., and BATHURST & CO., Calcutta; R. ROBERTSON, Ceylon; O'HARA & CO., Bangalore; RANGON DISPENSARY, No. 216, Dalhousie Street; E. GILLON CO., Lahore;

J. LEWELLYN & CO., Shanghai; China; HONG KONG DISPENSARY, Hong Kong; and all the Leading Merchants in India and China.

Copies of Dr. LALOR'S Prospectus, "THE ORIGIN OF LIFE AND CAUSES OF DEATH" on the Phosphoric Treatment, may be had on application to any of Dr. LALOR'S Agents.

THE GREATEST WONDER OF MODERN TIMES!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS

LONG experience has proved these famous remedies to be most effectual in curing either the dangerous maladies or the slighter complaints which are more particularly incidental to the life of a miner, or to those living in the bush.

Occasional doses of these Pills will guard the system against those evils which so often beset the human race, such as—coughs, colds, and all disorders of the liver and stomach—the frequent forerunners of fever, dysentery, diarrhoea, and cholera.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT

Is the most effectual remedy for old sores, wounds, ulcers, rheumatism, and all skin diseases; in fact, when used according to the printed directions, it never fails to cure a skin, deep and superficial ulcers.

These Medicines may be obtained from all respectable Druggists and Storekeepers throughout the civilized world, with directions for use in almost every language.

They are prepared only by the Proprietor, Thomas Holloway, 533, Oxford Street, London.

IMPROVED PURE EXTRACT

MALT

TRADE MARK.

CLIMATIC DEBILITY.

THE WEAK MADE STRONG.

NEWMAN'S EXTRACT OF MALT.

Prepared from the finest Kentish Malt, being non-fermented and free from Spirit, as certified by Dr. Haesall and other Analytical Chemists.

It is strongly recommended by the faculty, and extensively used in the principal Hospitals, and is particularly valuable in all cases of Constitutional and Climatic Debility, as well as being a most agreeable and efficient substitute for Cod Liver Oil. It is also very strongly recommended to be taken instead of Wine or Beer between meals, as it imparts immediate strength, assists digestion, and produces appetite, and it may be freely taken by total abstainers without any misgivings as to its exciting or intoxicating effects.

DIRECTIONS.—A Wine-plasful twice or three times a day. The Extract should be kept lying down in a cool place.

Copies of the Original Testimonials from Physicians and the Public can be forwarded upon application to the Manufacturer.

Sold by all Chemists, and by the Manufacturer, C. H. NEWMAN, Dagmar House, East Margate.

THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGKONG, SATURDAY, NOV. 15, 1879.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The next ENGLISH MAIL may be expected
here to-morrow by the P. & O. steamer Thibet, which left Singapore on Sunday
at 5 p.m.

The next AMERICAN MAIL may be expected here on or about the 22nd inst., by the O. & O. steamer, Belgic, which left San Francisco on the 25th ult.

The Legislative Council announced in our last night's paper for Monday next is postponed.

The next Criminal Sessions will be opened on Tuesday, the 18th; the only serious cases will be the respective charges against Mr Douglas and T. Ide Bowler.

It is spoken of as likely that Mr Bailey,
U. S. Consul-General at Shanghai, will go home at an early date, in consequence of the official action recently taken regarding the working of the Consulate here in years gone by. Congress meets on the first Monday of December (i.e., the 1st). General Stahel has, we learn, sent on his report to Washington.

It is now well known that the disbursement of the money for the reconstruction of the Praya is engaging the serious attention of the Government. In arriving at a just decision in this matter it ought not to be forgotten that the successful completion of the structure in the central districts was not owing to any particular energy on the part of the contractors, but more to the fortunate absence of any destructive typhoon.

We understand that Mr C. V. O'neagh goes home on leave a few months hence, and that an Acting Deputy Superintendent of Police will be required during his absence.

As of course a deputy ought to be a person who could upon an emergency assume the supreme direction of affairs, it will become necessary to appoint an officer of some standing to this post; and it has been mooted, we believe, to select a military man for the duty. If, as is most likely, the responsibility of the drill rests upon the second in command, this suggestion has its advantages, and the Sikh portion of the Police would doubtless rejoice over the emphasis it would give, if carried out, to the military character of the force. If, however, this idea should become an accomplished fact, it will set at rest the question as to how far a subordinate officer of the force may rise. The rank of Chief Inspector, now held by Mr Horapool, will be a limit—and we do not say it is an unfair limit—to the ambition of deserving members.

We publish elsewhere what, we think,
may well be regarded as a fair statement of the Domestic Servitude Question, which recently excited so much discussion in this Colony. As we have previously said, pending instructions from home, it is of little use prolonging the mere discussion of antagonistic views. But there is no apology necessary for presenting to our readers the views of "Humanitas"—an impartial "outsider,"
as they embody a very sensible proposal touching the remedy to be provided. His observations upon the immoral trade in females also deserve some attention in high quarters, exposing, as they do, an apparent defect in the regulations affecting the transmission of the class of females specially referred to.

SOME movement was made a short time since to make arrangements for sorting the inward French mails, in the same way as is now done with the mails brought on by the English packets. There can be no two opinions as to the convenience of the arrangement in the case of the heavy English mails; but if we look at the short time generally taken in sorting the French mail
in the Post Office, it seems to us that it would be hardly worth the trouble and expense to depute sorters to travel by the Messageries boats. Take as an instance the mail that arrived yesterday: it was ready for delivery an hour and a half after the mails were landed, and, if we mistake not,
the sorting has been done in even shorter time. It may be remembered also that many difficulties, besides that of expense, presented themselves, when the subject was first mooted two or three years ago; and we have every reason to believe that these have not been, and are not likely to be, removed.

The French Post-Office is not an easily-moved machine. All things considered, we are rather of opinion that the change is not worth the trouble and expense necessary to accomplish it.

The "off day" of the Shanghai meeting was favoured by splendid weather. A few ladies graced the Grand Stand with their presence, and the attendance of members of the sterner sex in the enclosure was pretty nearly equal to that of the regular days of the meeting, but the heavy fringe of natives along the rails in the Bubbling Well Road, noticeable on the first three days of last week, was considerably thinned.

The following are the results:—
Half-mile Race.—Mr Chouffeur's grey Flick.

exhibit their hypocrisy. All men know that the Chinese were induced to come here because their labour was demanded by the white population. They know, likewise, that they remain here because white population employ them. So long as they are employed they will remain, and when employment ceases they will depart. Their continuance here, or their departure hence, will depend entirely upon our own action. We need no congressional action to aid us in the matter. We need neither bayonets, bullets nor sand-lot bluster to accomplish the purpose. The remedy is with our citizens, and the truth is, as the foregoing facts demonstrate, that the people do not want the Chinese to go.

CRICKET.

OVER THIRTY & UNDER THIRTY.

The axiom that "Youth will be served" is incontrovertible, and so "Our Boys" is incontrovertible. The stuff—the interior, out of the old men-to-day. The veterans were doing very well before the war, but on the arrival of Travers he speedily made a change and by some extraordinarily good bowling finished off the remainder, the total being 114. Friend, Dunman and Clarke hit the bowling all over the field, and at sunset the telegraph showed 168 for 3 wickets, a most decisive victory for "Under Thirty."

DOMESTIC SERVITUDE IN CHINA.

Liberty is considered as a boon in all lands, and yet all lands have placed restrictions on it. In the West it has been considered theoretically as a natural right, and is esteemed a blessing next to that of life itself. Under the influence of Christianity and of the free spirit of our ancestors individualism has reached the highest development, so that the individual has become the unit of society. Practically, however, many limitations are placed on the freedom of the individual. A parent has the control of the services and earnings of his child up to a certain age, and a master is entitled to the time and labor of his apprentice. Not only so, but a man may sign away his liberty and subject his personal comfort and his life itself to the disposal of his superiors by enlisting in the army or navy, or the State may go further and submit the liberty of some of its subjects to the control or caprice of others by conscripting men. So the planter in Guiana may purchase a right to control the labor and freedom of a coolie for a term of years. In all these cases a man forfeits his personal freedom for the time being to another, and is subjected to the power of another, which power generally claims the right of corporal punishment even.

In Oriental countries society is constructed on the patriarchal basis. The family and not the individual is the unit. The conventional lines restricting the freedom of the individual are drawn in freedom places from those in the West. The patria potestas is not limited theoretically at any age. Females assume a position of subjection. Society is looked upon not so much as a field of grain, where each individual plant has an independent existence, as a tree, where some branches are dependent on others. In China to be excluded from the clan 出族 though not immediately involving any pecuniary loss, is looked upon as a most ignominious punishment. Males, with a few exceptions, are not separated from the family tree, their duty is to perpetuate the family name; with females however the case is different, the branch is to be grafted into another stock. At marriage the girl ceases to be connected with her parents' family but enters that of her husband. Society is so constructed in China that she must be dependent, she must have a natural protector. It is utterly repugnant to Chinese notions to consider her as independent. A girl would not consider liberty a boon, she wants protection. She does not wish to be a client without a patron. To be turned loose on society without a home or a patron is a lot no decent Chinese girl would choose.

As girls are to be alienated from the family anyhow when they reach a marriageable age, poor parents who have too many mouths to feed, often sell their services for eight or ten years to a wealthy family. This is the Chinese system of Mai Tsai or so-called "Slave girls." Families of the middle class often purchase girls in this way with the intention of making their daughters-in-law when the sons grow up. The girls are not considered as slaves properly so-called. They are members of the family very much as Abraham's "household servants" probably were. The family idea is not lost sight of, and it is not usual to transfer them to any other family until they are married, though this may be done. What is the status of these servant girls? By what is it regulated? We must remember that in China, as in England, there are practically two kinds of law,

The Penal Code corresponds to Statute Law, while Custom has the force of Common Law. According to the Penal Code parents are forbidden to sell their children and others to buy them under a penalty of 100 blows. But Custom allows it. This same custom, which has all the force of a law, and is in effect the unwritten law, regulates the treatment of the servant girl. It is understood that she is to be treated as a family domestic, that she shall not be sold for any immoral purpose, that she shall not be retained in service after a suitable husband can be obtained for her or she reaches 20 years of age. Any master or mistress violating these well understood conditions would be held up to reproach in a Chinese village, even if the severer penalties of the statute law were not brought to bear upon them.

What then is the nature of this bondage in which these girls are held? Technically, it is a limited slavery, inasmuch as a price is paid and the purchaser has the parental authority transferred into his hands. Practically, it is more akin to an apprenticeship, or still more to a system which prevails sometimes in the West of "binding out" boys and girls to serve for their victuals and clothes until they are of a certain age. The service is for a limited time, the girls are looked on as part of the family, and their position as wives is not affected by the fact of their having been bound to service. So this bondage is at most a modified slavery, really standing between slavery and apprenticeship and practically resembling the latter more than the former.

This is the most common form of servitude among the Chinese, but there are other systems both more harsh and more mild. There is slavery properly so called, where men become hereditary slaves, the property of their masters. These slaves are popularly known in Canton as 二分之一 (i.e. "22 candareens," or those who value themselves so slightly as to throw themselves away. These "Two-penny" slaves are generally those who have been reduced to great straits by poverty or oppression and have sold themselves and their families to some wealthy man that they may have support and protection. Some are also the descendants of captives taken in war.

Boys are also bought from their parents to be trained as musicians and play-actors. These are often very cruelly treated, but like the Mai Tsai they are free when they grow up.

The mildest form of servitude, and one that cannot be called slavery, is that where a girl is pawned until she can be redeemed by her parents, (當 贖). In this case the money received by the parents is less than when the girl is sold outright; they have the right to redeem her at any time by refunding the money advanced, and as a matter of fact do generally redeem her when she becomes of a marriageable age, for the money received from the expectant husband is more than that for which she was pawned. The employer in this case cannot sell the girl as she is in no sense his property, but he can pawn her to anyone else; wherever found, however, the parents can always claim her by refunding the amount agreed on in the original papers. The girl in this case never ceases to be a member of her father's family; it is equivalent to an apprenticeship where the apprentice's time can be bought out.

To come to the practical question which has been raised in Hongkong. No doubt things are very different there from what they are in a Chinese village or city. Men from various parts of China are thrown together there; even the Chinese community is not homogeneous. Public opinion cannot be brought to bear upon a man as it can in ordinary Chinese Society. Then the servant-girls are far away from their parents and friends, and cannot be traced as in a village. Again, the temptations to sell girls for immoral purposes are unusually strong and the chances of detection unusually small. Had the passenger-laws been made on purpose to abet instead of to prevent the traffic in women, they could scarcely have afforded more practical protection to this immoral traffic, for a vessel has only to carry less than 20 passengers and no investigation is permitted as to their character.

The evil is a great one, and even if the remedy causes some inconvenience, all respectable Chinese should be willing to put up with the inconvenience in order to prevent their own flesh and blood from being sold to keep up the brothels of Singapore and California.

What is the best practical way out of the difficulty? I think it is to forbid the buying and selling of girls and restrict the contracts to pawning. The contracts should be filed in some Government office, and anyone who attempts to take a pawned servant-girl out of the Colony without Government permission should be dealt with as a kidnapper. The presence and consent of one or both of the parents might also be required whenever it is desired to transfer the pawn contract from one person to another.

But what is to be done with the girls (said to be 8,000) who are now in servitude in Hongkong? This is without question a difficult problem. Whatever is done, a sudden manumission would be most impolitic. Not only would it be a wrong to the masters, but it would be an unmitigated evil to the girls themselves—an offence against humanity and morality. What would become of the girls? Doubtless most of them would find their way to the brothels. Liberty would not be a real boon to them. They would be cut off from all protection and become the prey of the designing.

Any arrangement by which they would be merely hired by the month would be futile, and would subject the girls to more ill-treatment than at present, for now self-interest requires the master to treat his servant well, else he cannot recoup himself for the price paid for her by disposing of her as a wife.

While no arrangement would likely be thoroughly satisfactory to all parties, perhaps the best way would be to insist that the sale be changed into a pawn contract, where the parents of the girl are accessible. Though this would involve some hardship on the part of the owners of the servant-girls, it would be light compared with those involved by emancipation elsewhere. By fixing a date after which all holding girls without such contract papers would be liable to arrest, and at the same time taking such precautions as common sense would dictate to prevent these girls being sent away or disposed of in the Colony for immoral purposes, the evil complained of might be removed to a great extent. It is very necessary however to be careful lest in pursuing a theoretical good we only produce a practical evil.

HUMANITAS.

China.

(Herald Nov. 6th.)

The Foochow Horticultural Society will, by permission of the Canton-Guild hold their Chrysanthemum show in the Canton Club House on Thursday next, the 18th instant.

The Chinese are notoriously careless in regard to combustible material. Last week, for example, a party of Ningpo junkmen were indulging in a quiet smoke—seated over a couple of bags of gunpowder on board their vessel, off the Foreign Settlement, when their little lata a tele was rudely interrupted by the explosion of the gunpowder beneath them; and three of the men were, we regret to add, so seriously injured that their lives are despaired of.

A Malay sailor, one of the crew of the Siamese barque Saman's Bride, bound from Hongkong to Ningpo, was picked up last week by some fishermen outside Sharp Peak. The poor fellow had fallen from one of the yards of his vessel, and, being abandoned by his comrades, contrived to keep afloat for about eight hours until he was providentially rescued by a passing fishing boat. He was brought up to Pagoda Anchorage, and lodged at Her Majesty's Vice-Consulate for a few days, whence he was, we understand, forwarded to Hongkong.

The first of the proposed series of fortnightly assemblies at the Club took place last Friday evening, the 31st ultimo, and was pronounced on all sides to be an unqualified success. The arrangements were excellent, reflecting great credit on the committee to whom the task of organising had been entrusted. Shortly after midnight the company commenced to disperse; and, after the last fair guest had taken her departure, the customary dances—a la Spurgeons—ensued, bringing a very pleasant entertainment to a termination at a little past 1 o'clock.

The Revd. George Sultan desires us to convey his heartfelt thanks to those members of the community who have so liberally responded to his appeal on behalf of the Nestorian Church in Kurdistan. Mr Sultan informs us, that the Christian Kurds are, as a class, wretchedly poor, owing to the oppressive exactions of Turkish tax-gatherers and landowners, and that in his own particular district the people are entirely dependent upon extraneous aid for both church and school requirements—hence the reverend gentleman's present tour through the Far East. Mr Sultan leaves for Shanghai by the S. S. Europa to-morrow.

With reference to the Mamoi Arsenal scandal, alluded to in our two previous issues, we now understand that the gunboat captain in question was not flogged but merely threatened. All the other particulars of the case as recorded in our columns, are strictly correct; and we may add, that the Provincial Government has lost, through this egregious act of folly, one of its best officers, and that the discouragement given to the rest of the naval staff by such acts of paternal authority are beginning to bear fruit already, and will, we trust, in due course of time, disprove and utterly confound the misleading statements and underhand tactics of the Franco-Chinese inspirers of sensational paragraphs about the "Infant Navy" in the home press.

A case of some interest to the commercial world was tried in the German Consular Court on the 30th ultimo. The litigation arose out of the refusal of a local firm, Messrs. Schönfeld & Co., to pay to the Great Northern Telegraph Company the extra charges on certain telegrams which Messrs. Schönfeld & Co., had directed to be transmitted by the Siberian route, and which, owing to an interruption of communication by that line, were subsequently, on the responsibility of the Great Northern Telegraph Company's Agent at Amoy, forwarded by the more expensive Southern route, via Suez. The hearing terminated on Thursday last, judgment being reserved until to day, when the case was decided in favor of the Telegraph Company.

A DISTINGUISHED FREE-MASON IN THE EAST.

It will doubtless be interesting to Freemasons to know that there is now travelling in the Far East a distinguished member of the Craft in the person of W. Bro. Captain Arthur B. Cook (32nd degree), P.G.S.S., Past Provincial Grand Registrar for Surrey, and Past Deputy Master of the Prince of Wales's Lodge—the Lodge which was founded by George IV., when Prince of Wales, and of which their Royal Highnesses the Dukes of York, Kent, and Sussex were successive Masters, and after the initiation into Masonry of the now Hereditary Prince of the Throne, he became its head and still continues in that position. Bro. Cook was twice chosen Deputy Master by the Prince of Wales, and while in office he had the high privilege of assisting as Junior Warden at the initiation of the Duke of Connaught, the Prince of Wales himself conducting the ceremony. W. Bro. Cook is now staying in Shanghai, on a tour round the world, and on Thursday evening he unexpectedly paid a visit to the Cosmopolitan Lodge, No. 428, S.C., being introduced by W. Bro. Thorne, R.W.D. G.M. of the District Grand Lodge of Northern China, who was accompanied by W. Bro. Kingsmill, D.G.J.W. They were received and welcomed by the R.W.M. Bro. T. Pemberton, and Past Masters C.M. Donaldson (30 degrees) and W. Bro. Birt, (80 degrees) who conducted them to seats on the dais; and fortunately there was a good attendance of members with two candidates for affiliation and two for initiation. At the conclusion of the business, the R.W.D.G.M. and his distinguished guest were thanked by W. Bro. Birt, P.M., for the honour their presence conferred upon the Lodge, and both of them suitably responded. W. Bro. Cook explained that some of the most pleasant evenings he had spent since he left home twelve months ago had been among Masonic Brethren, and as a most remarkable instance of the cosmopolitan feeling of the Craft, he referred to a visit he had paid with W. Bro. Leigh, R.W.D.G.M. at Bombay, to the Arya Samaj, where he saw assembled Hindoo, Parsee, Mahomedan, and Christian Brethren, all working together in union for the good of the cause, and that when the Lodge was closed all the members sat down to a banquet served in English style, and after the toast of "The Queen and the Craft" the company rose en masse and sang the National Anthem with great gusto. The night astonished him greatly, and he sent a full description of it to his own Lodge, as he should also do of the handsome manner in which he had been received by the Brethren in China. W. Bro. Donaldson,

P.M., then proposed that W. Bro. Cook be affiliated as an honorary member of the Cosmopolitan Lodge, and the proposition having been seconded by W. Bro. Birt, P.M., was put to the Brethren by the R.W.M., Bro. Pemberton, and carried with acclamation. W. Bro. Cook's name was then entered on the register and he was duly obligated as an honorary member. He again returned thanks for the reception accorded him, and said he took the honour just conferred upon him to be intended more for the Lodge he represented than for himself. We understand that W. Bro. Cook proceeds from Shanghai to Japan, where doubtless he will also meet with an enthusiastic reception from the Masonic body.—N. C. D. News.

LATE NEWS FROM THE CAPE.

We take the following from the Natal Witness of Sept. 16th. The latest Cape news by the mail is Sept. 9th:—

CETWAYO'S MARCH TO PORT DURNFORD.

We have been put in possession of some interesting details of Cetwayo's manner and behaviour while travelling with the escort from Ulundi to Port Durnford. The late Zulu King was extremely shabby in his demeanour to all those forming his escort, and one of the officers of it says he is "the jolliest and most intelligent nigger I have ever seen." Cetwayo took grog in the most approved style with his escort, and we may mention that on his late royal highness being shown a copy of the Graphic in which there was a representation of the torture and examination of a French prisoner (!) before him at Ulundi, he burst into an uncontrollable fit of laughter. Our readers can draw their own inference from Cetwayo's merriment; certain it is that even after the journal had been laid aside he begged to have another look at it, and as he gazed on the ghastly figure of the supposed prisoner, and scrutinized the unfamiliar lineaments of the personage pointed out as himself, his mirth broke forth anew.

THE TERMS OF PEACE.

CONDITIONS OF THE CHIEFTAINSHIPS. The following is from the document signed by the chiefs at the late announcement of the terms of peace:—

1. To observe and respect whatever boundaries shall be assigned to his territory by the British Government, through the Resident of the Division in which his territory is situated.

2. Not to permit the existence of the Zulu military system, or the existence of any military system, or organization whatsoever within his territory, and to proclaim and make it a rule that all men shall be allowed to marry whom they choose and as they choose, according to the good and ancient customs of his people, known and followed in the days preceding the establishment by Chaka of the military system, and to allow and encourage all men living within his territory to go and come freely for peaceful purposes, and to work in Natal or the Transvaal, or elsewhere, for themselves or for hire.

3. Not to import, or allow to be imported into his territory by any person, for any object whatsoever, firearms or other goods of any description, and ammunition, from any part of inland or sea coast, and to consent all such goods, or arms, &c., as come in, finding the owners, or possessors of them, with heavy fine, or such other punishment as may be allowed.

4. Not to allow life to be taken on any pretence without trial, before the Council of Chief Men, allowing fair and impartial defence and examination of witnesses in the chiefs' presence, and further, not to permit of witchcraft, witch doctors, or smelting out.

5. To surrender all fugitives demanded by the British Government, flying from the laws, and to prevent them coming into Zululand, and, if in, to escort himself and his people to catch them.

6. Not to make war on any other chief without the sanction of the British Government, and in any unsettled dispute it must be settled by arbitration of the British Government, through the Resident of the District.

7. The succession to the Chieftainship to be decided by ancient laws and customs, and nomination of successors to be submitted for approval of Government.

8. Not to sell or alienate land.

9. To permit all people now in the district to remain, upon recognition of his power, and any wishing to leave are to be allowed to do so.

10. In all cases of dispute in which British subjects are concerned, to appeal and abide by decision of British Resident, and, in other cases, not to punish until approved of by Resident.

11. In all cases not included in the above, or in any doubt or uncertainty, to govern and decide in accordance with ancient laws.

SIR GARNET'S MEETING WITH THE CHIEFS.

Ulundi, 2nd Sept.

The war, which has been full of stirring and melancholy events, was yesterday brought to a finale, when, in accordance with instructions issued throughout Zululand by His Excellency the High Commissioner, upwards of two hundred and fifty doughty chiefs assembled to receive the terms upon which peace would be concluded and the future government established. Some of them have been brought before the public in a very prominent manner of late, whilst others are comparatively unknown to the public. The chiefs mustered in the centre of Sir Garnet Wolseley's camp, near to the flagstaff, and the late prime minister took up his position in the centre of his countrymen. Nearly all the officers of each regiment attended by Sir Garnet's request, and formed up in half circular position at the upper end. Cetwayo's contemptuous enemies, the Native O'ntingens, were also present, and regarded the meeting with curiosity, which was occasionally shown by their questioning looks and by other signs. At about four o'clock Sir Garnet emerged from the flagstaff, and at a short distance greeted with loud shouts, apparently intended for "hurrahs," by the whole of the Zulus. Basutana was then commenced; Sir Garnet, with Mr John Shepstone, Brigadier-General Clarke, commanding the Flying Column, and John Dunn, formed a small detached group, and behind them were Gen. Colley, who was knighted very recently, Col. Brackenbury, and other members of the staff, including the private secretary of Sir Garnet Wolseley. Sir Garnet delivered, through Mr Shepstone, a speech in which he reviewed the doings of Cetwayo from his coronation by the British Government, which, by a singular coincidence, occurred six years ago from this date. He said the King was now a prisoner, after having incited rebellion among the Zulus, and would never return to his native land again, he having failed to perform promises made at the time of his coronation, and having made war against the English Government and defeated in nearly all the later battles. The country was now about to be divided among them, and he hoped Cetwayo's fate would prove a warning to them to fulfil the promises which they would make and sign. An English resident would live among them, and all disputes must be referred to him.

The conditions under which they accepted the Government proposals were translated to them from copies which are to be given them as a guarantee of the English Government, and titles to their land. Each chief then signed a copy, which was counter-signed by two witnesses—who were of subordinate rank—and by His Excellency the High Commissioner, and Mr Shepstone, who interpreted it. John Dunn was appointed one of the chiefs, and his territory will be somewhere near the border, if not on the actual border; one of the chiefs who was appointed to a district, withdrew, and elected to live under Chama, who will be mentioned as one of the chiefs. The successions to the chieftainships at the demise of the present chiefs, will be determined by the British Government. The meeting afterwards broke up. Thus ends the Zulu War, and the Government of the Zulu country. The Headquarters advance to-morrow to Utrecht, and Clarke's column commences their return to Natal, where they will break up; each post in this country will be abolished very shortly.

What the next move will be is the present subject for speculation, but it is not too much to say that Sir Garnet Wolseley's plan of the government of Zululand is universally condemned.

The R.M.S. Roman is to leave to-day. Several notable names appear among the list, perhaps that of Lord Gifford deservingly the first position it holds. "The Mercury of yesterday" says that he is the bearer of despatches announcing the conclusion of peace in Zululand, and that this mission will entitle him to a douceur of £400. It is a fortunate thing for this young man that he has so thorough a friend and patron as Sir Garnet Wolseley.

It will not escape observation that among the new arrangements in Zululand is included the appointment of the Basut chief Hlubi to the governorship—if we may call it so—of Sirayo's district. The reasons which have led to this decision have not been explained. But if it were wished to involve Natal in another Zulu war as soon as possible, no better step could have been taken. The Basutos who live under the Berg are old enemies of the Zulus, whom the Zulus drove out of Zululand in the days of Chaka, pursuing them right across the Drakensberg, whence they only returned when the wave of Zulu invasion had subsided. Can it be regarded as likely that the Zulus will quietly accept as their chief the chief of a clan in Natal who are of alien blood, and who have in former days felt the weight of the Zulu power? Here, it is plain, are direct conditions of hostility established between Natal and Zululand, which may at any time be productive of the most serious consequences. And yet we are asked to believe that the Zulu question is settled!

THE COMING CABINET.

In world's chickens of unhatched eggs the Living says:—

The Cabal disasters have given fresh vigour, and with it fresh hopes, to the Opposition. The remaining months of the recess may retrieve the position for the Government, and the mishap may be ended before the dissolution. But the last-named even is not every instant; and speculation is rife in many Liberal hearts as to the chances of those to be called to the front in the case of a plébiscite adverse to Lord Beaconsfield's fat runes.

The first question that arises is naturally that of the Prime Minister. Despite all that has been said, written, promised, and declared, it should not surprise any one if Mr Gladstone resumed his old post. The jai-yai felt by Lord Granville of Lord Hartington is known to all his party; and whether in the House of Lords, or Commons, Mr Gladstone would be an awkward auxiliary and subordinate to a nominal chief. Whatever his protestations, or demurements, circumstances may prove too strong for his shrinking nature, and when the time comes, his dilatoriness will probably yield to the gentle violence of his adherents.

Assuming this choice to be made, the distribution of the Cabinet posts, however numerous, will give rise to an unusual and amiable Liberal Cabinet are necessarily larger than those of the Conservatives. Liberalism means diversity of opinion, and a Liberal Cabinet is unavoidably a mosaic. We may therefore safely calculate the strength of a future Cabinet, by looking at the three additional places being those of Vice-President for Education, the Chancellor of the Duchy, and either the Irish Secretaryship or the First Commissionership of Works.

The Duke of Argyll would probably prefer the Colonies to India, and indeed the financial duties of an Indian Secretary make it desirable that the office should be allotted to the Lower House.

The other guesses are:—
Foreign Office—Lord Kimberley, or Lord Derby, Lord Granville leader of the House of Lords, being not disposed to take it.
Lord Chancellor—Lord Salisbury.
Secretary of State for India—Sir Wm. Harcourt.

Home Secretary—Sir Henry James.
Secretary for War—Mr Goschen, or (if his views on the franchise question will not allow him to accept office) Sir Charles Dilke.

President of the Council—Lord Granville.

Privy Seal—Lord Cardwell.

Chancellorship of the Duchy—Mr Fawcett.

"Ruler of the Queen's Navies"—Mr Foster.

Postmaster—Mr Childers.

Board of Works—Mr Rylands, (if he does not accept the Under Secretaryship Foreign Affairs.)

Vice Presidency of the Council—Mr Leffer.

Board of Trade—Mr Jos Chamberlain, or Mr Mandella.

Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant—The O'Connor Don.

Chancellor of the Exchequer—Lord Hartington.

THE JAPANESE SUBSIDIARY COINAGE.

It is not likely any notice would have been taken of a paragraph in the Hogo News had not a portion of the foreign press of Yokohama reprinted it. The Shanghai Mercury states that five sen silver pieces are in full supply in that port, the value being twenty-two pence and twenty cash for one dollar, in the cash shops, and better rates for large quantities. The Hogo News makes the following comment:—"Our contemporary is in error when he goes on to characterize the coin as bullion containing only about sixty per cent. of pure metal, the difference in value, it is true, between the dollar coin and an equivalent sum in the subsidiary coinage, being, we believe, not more than eighteen per cent."

The small silver currency is admittedly a token coinage, and intended to be used as such; but it nevertheless is said to possess a specie value of only 12 per cent. less than the silver yen. If the market, or current value of the coin is eighteen per cent. discount the quantity of silver contained in it is only estimated at 738 instead of 800, the latter being the declared standard fineness of the mint reports. If the mint statements are correct a shipment of subsidiary coins would yield a large profit to those interested, for it is clear that 1,000 silver yen weighing 866,668 Troy ounces and 9.0 fine, contain no more pure silver than 22,400 five sen pieces, weighing 975,154 Troy ounces and 800 fine. At the market rate, however, 23,600 five sen pieces of proportionate weight and purity of silver can be obtained.

We were some time ago accused of declaring the subsidiary coinage to be debased. The accusation against us was entirely without foundation, but we may now ask how it comes to pass that silver subsidiary coins purporting to be of the same proportionate weight with the silver yen, and to possess a standard fineness of 800 against 900 of the former, and to be, therefore, intrinsically worth not lower than 12 per cent. less than silver yen, are quoted for sale at 18 per cent. discount? Are the public deceived? are bankers and merchants indifferent to their own advantages, or do the coins in reality only contain 728 parts instead of 800 of pure silver?

THE "DOUBLE ACROSTICS FOR THE SERVICES."

The "Double Acrostics for the Services" are distinguished by the two principal words being connected with the Naval and Military professions, such for example as "Sword," "Mantling-pike," "Platoon," &c. No such restriction applies to the lights.

All solutions should be sent to Enron, China Mail Office, by noon, on the Friday following the publication of any one Acrostic, with the word "Acrostic" on the envelope. Any arriving subsequently will not be entertained.

A premium of $10 will be given to the person giving the greatest number of correct solutions by New Year's day.

Every Saturday a new Acrostic will be given, together with the solution of the one of the previous week.—The successful names will also be published.

THE TRIENNIAL EXAMINATIONS.

The Wuchang correspondent of the N. C. Daily News gives the following interesting description of the Examinations lately held in the Province:

The triennial examinations which have been held simultaneously throughout the eighteen provinces are now over, and disappointed students, whose name is legion, have to console themselves with the hope of "better luck next time."

So little has scholarship to do in the public estimation with a man's attaining his degree, that it is put down last among the five conditions essential to success, and good luck has the first place.

First, says the oracle, luck; second, destiny, or an auspicious horoscope; third, Feng-suei, including the happy choice of a resting place for departed ancestors; fourth, good deeds done in secret; and fifth, study. The myriad luckless students who have failed this time will therefore comfort themselves in the belief that it was not their essays or poetry which were at fault, but only the fates which were against them.

Of a candidate who died as he was entering the Hall, it was currently reported that he must have been a sinner above all others and the avenging Nemesis had pursued him to the death lest he should attain to higher honours.

Several others died during the course of the examination, and, according to custom, their dead bodies were hoisted over the walls, from a superstitious idea that it would be unlucky to carry the dead through the Dragon Gates. Were the Governor of the province himself to die in the discharge of his duties within the Hall, his remains would not be allowed to pass these gates, but would be carried out through a hole in the back wall.

The examinations lasted nine days, from the 8th day of the 6th Chinese month till the 16th, with an interval on the 10th and 13th days.

The list of successful candidates was published on the night of the 22nd inst., or the 9th day of the 9th month. Groups of interested students and their friends were to be seen all day long discussing the probable names on the list. Soldiers were on guard from the Hall to the Provincial Treasurer's yard, where a cheap and most unightly gallery, made of bare poles and straw matting, had been erected to receive the Roll of Fame.

Denser than ever became the crowds in the streets, and louder the hum of excitement, as the hour of midnight arrived when the guns were fired, and the scroll was unrolled before the eyes of the waiting multitude. Only sixty-one out of a total of about 12,000 competitors, have gained the degree of Chi Jen, or M.A., while only nine others have obtained honourable mention. Previous to the Taping rebellion, Hupoh could only pass forty-eight men at the triennial examinations. The number was raised in consideration of vast sums of money subscribed to the impoverished Imperial Exchequer of that time, and as a kind of bounty to the people for the heavy taxes imposed under the name of tekun, which then embraced not only merchandise, but property, income, and poll taxes that have since been abolished.

Of the sixty-one names on the list, by far the largest proportion are men belonging to the departments of Wu-chang, Hwang-chow, and Han-yang, the more distant departments of Hwang-yang, Ichang, and Yün-yang have failed to carry off even one degree; while the Manchou, from King-chow, who always send about 100 students, have their allotted number of three degrees.

The ages of the successful candidates range from nineteen, a lad who is 34th Wrangler, to fifty-three, the oldest, who is 14th on the list.

The age of the Senior Wrangler is thirty-one, and he comes from the Kwang-chi district, where no doubt his success will be less attributed to superior scholarship than to the rebuilding of a pagoda and a temple to the God of Literature, which have lately much improved the Feng-suei of the place.

The texts on which the three essays of the first examination have to be written are taken invariably from the "Four Books," and on this occasion were as follows:—

1st.—Tzu Kung said:—Suppose the case of a ruler conferring extensive benefits upon the people, and able to resist all.

2nd.—This rule (of conferring honours on three generations of ancestors) was extended to the princes, great officers, scholars and people.

3rd.—To hold a middle course without deviation is as bad as holding to an extreme.

Subject for poem:—

"The azure precipice was half concealed in a mass of rolling clouds." The poem was to be in pentameter verse, and eight of the sixteen lines were to rhyme with the last word of the text; the examiners furnishing about fifty or more rhyming words to choose from.

The average length of each essay is about 500 words, and the greatest amount of care is bestowed on the first, which curiously enough is on exactly the same text that given at Peking this year (see N. C. Herald of 7th October, p. 377.)

The students are in the Hall from the 8th to the 10th day, shut up in their small cells four feet by three, not so large or comfortable even as Kirke White's.

"Closest just six feet by four."

With white-washed walls and plaster floor;

So noble, large, 'tis scarcely able

To admit a single chair and table."

The Chinaman's study cannot boast

"A window vainly stuffed about

To keep November's breezes out,"

for it is exposed to the full force of wind and rain, being only one of a long line of brick stalls, open in front, and covered with a slightly projecting tiled roof.

But like their brother poet of the West,

these aspirants to fame would doubtless sing—

"No dungeon's wall, no cell confined,

Can cramp the energies of mind."

And so, under the most unfavourable circumstances, ten thousand sons of a rhyming

race

"Pursue their studies con amore,

And wanton with the muse of glory."

They enter the Hall again on the 11th, and this time have five more essays to write on texts selected from the Five

Classics. These were as follows:—

1st.—Of suspended bodies none can exceed in brightness the sun and moon.

2nd.—The articles of tribute from this province in the time of Yu, (B.C. 2238)

were Oh'nu wood, yew trees, cedars, grind-stones, whetstones, arrow-headed stones,

and chinnab. Also wood of the Kwán,

Lu, and Hu trees.

3rd.—O my husbandmen, the harvest in all gathered in, let us go to the town and build our houses.

4th.—The Marquis of Chi, the Duke of Sung, the Marquis of Chi, the Marquis of Wei, and the Earl of Chi had a meeting at Kien.

5th.—In the time of the Hia dynasty the Imperial drum was placed on feet; during the Shang dynasty it was supported on pillars; and in the Chow dynasty it was suspended.

The students for the third time enter the Hall on the 14th day of the 8th month, and have given to them a long array of questions on five topics selected at the discretion of the Examiners. The generally embrace, as on this occasion—

1st.—A critical examination of various readings of the text of the Five Classics,

with the appended remark that the present

dynasty has paid much attention to the purity of the text of these books, and students should therefore acquaint themselves with the best readings.

2nd.—A long series of questions on discrepancies found in the best Histories of the Empire.

3rd.—A discussion of the merits of various books of past dynasties on the subject of Agriculture, prefaced with the remark that

"The Government of a country is founded upon its Agriculture, and the produce of the fields is the people's Heaven;" and concluded with the further remark, that as many of the competitors have been brought up in agricultural districts they will answer

the questions from their own personal experience.

4th.—A list of questions on the ancient geography of the province, and divergent statements in the old geographies of the country.

5th.—An examination into the authorship, date and value of various celebrated collections of Essays.

It will be seen from the above brief summary of topics that this part of the competition would necessitate a vast amount of most careful reading to enable the student to answer the questions correctly. This is the only part of a Chinaman's education which travels beyond the blind routine of the Four Books and Five Classics; and was a reforming educationalist to arise, he might here easily introduce a few questions

on foreign languages, science and international law, without much disturbance of the present balance of classical studies. As things are, this part of the examination is skipped by nearly every student, and is reckoned as having very little influence in deciding the fate of the previous days' exams. Nine-tenths of the men are in blissful ignorance of most of the questions,

and hence the practice of carrying on crib is universal. So great is the number of students that it is impossible even to make a pretence of searching them. Every man takes with him as many cribs as he has money to purchase, or room in his basket

to carry. If his basket be full of writing materials, cooking utensils and provisions,

he disdains not to stuff his stockings, the lining of his clothes, hat and shoes, and to fill his capacious sleeves with these aids to memory. Several men sitting in adjoining cells will also combine their efforts to save time in searching for the answers to particular questions, and when these are found in the cribs, each student copies from the book, only making a few verbal alterations according to individual taste, and with a view to hiding the plagiarism.

Failing that, they make a guess at the answer, and care not whether it be right or wrong; hence the popular saying about a man who is unable to answer, or wishes to evade a question: he balked it.

As showing further the vast number of failures under this heading on the part even of the best essayists, it is significant that whereas the Prize Essays on the Four

Books and the poem are always printed,

the Essays on the Five Classics are not so invariably printed, while the answers to the last day's questions are seldom, if ever, published.

Bribery is a thing not unknown on these occasions, though every precaution is taken both on the journey from Peking, and after their arrival at the provincial capital, to prevent the High Examiners having any communication with the outer world. They enter the city on the 1st day of the 8th month, and are escorted to their temporary residence by officials, who see that the doors are closed and sealed behind them. Here they are immured till the 6th day, when their formal entry into the Examination

Hall is made the occasion of a grand procession, in which all the civic dignitaries

of the city take part. The Imperial Examiners are the honoured guests of the day, and they are attended by the Viceroy, the Governour, the Provincial Treasurer, Tao-tai,

and a host of minor officials chosen from the Magistrates of the province, who have already won the degree of M.A. or LL.D.

Twelve of these form a sub-examining board to sift the Essays as they are first handed in, while the others superintend the collecting, sealing, stamping, transcribing, &c.,

&c. Every Essay is copied in red ink, and only the copies are seen by the examiners.

The 21st of September witnessed one of these public pageants of which all Chinamen are so proud: our forefathers were of the Lord Mayor's show in less utilitarian days.

The students were naturally anxious to look upon the faces of the men who had themselves won the highest literary honours

of the Empire, and who had been commissioned to preside over the present competition; while the populace flocked in from all quarters to see the procession, riding through the streets in open chairs. There was the usual grand turn-out of regiments

lads, dressed

POSTAL RATES.

[Subjoined we give the postal rates now in force for transmission of correspondence to all parts of the world. Detailed rules affecting the transmission of packets, parcels, &c., will be found annexed, together with a number of miscellaneous and useful notices.]

Hongkong Rates of Postage.

(Revised April 4th, 1879.)

In the following Statements and Tables the Rates are given in cents, and are, for Letters, per half ounce, for Books and Patterns, per two ounces.

Newspapers over four ounces in weight are charged as double, treble, &c., as the case may be, but such papers or packets of papers may be sent at Book Rate. Two Newspapers must not be folded together as one, nor must anything whatever be inserted except bona fide Supplements. Printed matter may, however, be enclosed, if the whole be paid at Book Rate. Prices Current may be paid either as Newspapers or Books.

Commercial Papers signify such papers as, though written by hand, do not bear the character of an actual or personal correspondence, such as invoices, deeds, copied music, &c. Any of them in a Book Packet expose it to the higher charges stated below.

The sender of any Registered Article may accompany it with a Return Receipt on paying an extra fee of 4 cents.

The limit of weight for Books and Commercial Papers to Foreign Post Offices is 4 lbs. Patterns for such offices are limited to 8 ounces, and must not exceed these dimensions: 8 inches by 4 inches by 2 inches.

N.R. means No Registration.

Countries of the Postal Union.

The Union may be taken to comprise Europe, most foreign possessions in Asia, Japan, W. Africa, Egypt, Mauritius, all N. America, Mexico, Salvador, Chili, Brazil, Peru, the Argentine Republic, Jamaica, Trinidad, Guiana, Honduras, Bermuda, Labuan, with all Danish, French, Netherlands, Portuguese and Spanish Colonies.

Countries not in the Union are the Australasian Group.

LOCAL AND TOWN POSTAGE.

Within any Town or Settlement, or between Hongkong, Canton, and Macao, in either direction:—

Between any other two of the following places (through a British Office) viz:—Hongkong, Macao, Fata de China and Japan, Bangkok, Cebu, China, Fongquin, and the Philippines, by Private Ship, or by Contract Mail, — 8 8 2

Any publication fulfilling the conditions hereafter named can pass as a newspaper.

The conditions are as follows:—

1st. The publication must consist wholly or in great part of political or other news, or of articles relating thereto, or to other current topics, with or without advertisements.

2nd. It must be published in numbers at intervals of not more than 31 days, and must be printed on 4 sheets or sheets unattached.

3rd. The full title and date of publication must be printed at the top of the first page, and the whole or part of the title and date of publication at the top of every subsequent page; and this regulation applies to Tables of Contents and Indices.

4th. A supplement must consist wholly or in great part of advertisements, printed on a sheet or sheets, or a piece or pieces of paper, unstitched, or wholly or in part of engravings, prints, or lithographs illustrative of articles in the newspaper. The supplement must in every case be published with the newspaper, and must have the title and date of publication of the newspaper printed at the top of every page; or, if it consists of engravings, prints, or lithographs, at the top of every sheet or side.

A packet containing two or more newspapers is not chargeable with a higher rate of postage than would be chargeable on a book packet of the same weight.

Every newspaper must be posted either without a cover (in which case it must not be fastened, whether by means of gum, wafer, sealing wax, postage stamp, or otherwise) or in a cover entirely open at both ends, so as to admit of easy removal for examination. If this rule be infringed the newspaper is treated as a letter.

Every newspaper must be so folded, as to admit of the title being readily inspected.

A newspaper or packet of newspapers which contains any enclosure except supplements is charged as a letter, unless the enclosure be such as might be sent at the book rate of postage, and the entire packet be sufficiently prepaid as a book packet, in which case it is allowed to pass.

A newspaper which has any letter, or any communication of the nature of a letter, written in it or upon its cover, is charged as an unpaid or insufficiently paid letter.

No packet of newspapers may be above 5 lbs. in weight, nor above two feet in length, one foot in width, nor one in depth.

A book-packet may contain any number of separate books or other publications (including printed or lithographed letters), photographs (when not on glass or in cases containing glass or any like substance), drawings, prints, or maps, and any quantity of paper, or any other substance in ordinary use for writing or printing upon; and the books or other publications, prints, maps, &c., may be either printed, written, engraved, lithographed, or plain, or any mixture of these. Further, all legitimate binding, mounting, or covering of a book, &c., or of a portion thereof, is allowed, whether such binding, &c., be loose or attached; as also rollers in the case of prints or maps, markers (whether of paper or otherwise) in the case of books, pens or pencils in the case of pocket-books, &c., and, in short, whatever is necessary for the safe transmission of such articles, or usually appertains thereto; but the binding, rollers, &c., must not be sent as a separate packet.

Circulars, i.e., letters which are intended for transmission in identical terms to several persons, and the whole or the greater part of which is printed, engraved, or lithographed, may also be sent by book post.

But a book-packet may not contain any letter, or communication of the nature of a letter (whether separate or otherwise), unless it be a circular-letter or be wholly printed; nor any enclosure sealed or in any way closed against inspection. If this rule be infringed, the entire packet is charged as a letter.

A book-packet may be posted either without a cover, in which case it must not be fastened, whether by means of gum, wafer, sealing wax, postage stamp, or otherwise) or in a cover entirely open at both ends, so as to admit of the contents being easily withdrawn for examination; or otherwise it is treated as a letter. For the greater security of the contents, however, it may be tied at the ends with string; Postmasters being authorised to cut the string in such cases, although if they do so they must again tie up the packet.

No book-packet may be above 5 lbs. in weight, nor above 24 inches in length, 12 inches in width, or 12 inches in depth, unless it be sent to or from one of the Government offices.

When, owing to a great and unusual influx of letters, books, &c., the transmission or delivery of the letters would be delayed if the whole mail were dealt with without distinction, book-packets may be kept back till the next despatch or delivery.

PATTERNS.

They must not be of intrinsic value. This rule excludes all articles of a saleable nature, and indeed whatever may have a value of its own, apart from its mere use as a pattern; and the quantity of any material sent ostensibly as a pattern must not be so great that it can fairly be considered as having on this ground an intrinsic value.

Pattern and Sample Post to colonies and foreign countries is restricted to bona fide trade patterns or samples of merchandise. Goods sent for sale, or in execution of an order (however small the quantity may be), or any articles sent by one private individual to another, which are not actual patterns or samples, are not admissible.

Patterns or samples, when practicable, must be sent in covers open at the ends, and in such a manner as to be easy of examination. Samples of seeds, drugs, and such like articles, which cannot be sent in covers of this kind, but such articles only, may be posted enclosed in boxes, or bags of linen or other material, fastened in such a manner that they may be readily opened; or, in the case of seeds &c., in bags, closely closed, provided such closed bags are transparent, so as to enable the Officers of the Post Office readily to satisfy themselves as to the nature of the contents.

There must be no writing or printing upon or in any packet except the address of the person for whom it is intended, the address of the sender, a trade mark or number, and the price of the articles.

The rule which forbids the transmission through the Post of any article likely to injure the contents of the Mail Bags or Boxes, or the person of any Officer of the Post Office, is, of course, applicable to the Pattern Post; and a packet containing anything of the kind will be stopped, and not sent to its destination. Articles such as the following have been occasionally posted as Patterns, and have been detained as unfit for the Post, viz: Metal boxes, porcelain and China, fruit, vegetables, bunches of flowers, cuttings of plants, spurs, knives, scissors, needles, pins, pieces of machinery, sharp pointed instruments, samples of metals, samples of ore, samples in glass bottles, pieces of glass, acids of various kinds, curry combs, copper and steel engraving plates, and confectionery of all kinds.

Such articles as scissors, knives, razors, forks, steel pens, nails, keys, watch machinery, metal tubing, pieces of metal or ore, provided that they be packed and guarded in such a manner as to afford complete protection to the contents of the mail bags and to the Officers of the Post Office, while at the same time they may be easily examined, may be sent as samples. Indigo cannot be sent to any place.

To provide the greatest possible facilities for posting Correspondence for Europe, &c., up to the latest moment before the departure of the French Packet, arrangements have been made for receiving at the Post Office late letters—except those to and through Australia—from 11.10 A.M. to 11.30 A.M. Each letter must bear a late fee of 18 cents extra postage.

A similar supplementary Mail is made up for Shanghai by the English and French Contract Steamers, the late letters being received from 10 minutes after, up to half an hour after the time of closing. The late fee is also 18 cents.

Miscellaneous Notices.

Local Delivery.

1. All correspondence posted before 5 p.m. on any week day for addresses in Victoria will be delivered the same day, and generally within two hours, unless the delivery should be retarded by the Contract Mails.

2. Invitations, &c., can generally be delivered within Victoria at the private houses of the addressees rather than at places of business, if a wish to that effect be expressed by the sender, otherwise all correspondence is invariably delivered at the nearest place of business. (See Postal Guide, par. 103.)

3. Boxholders who desire to send Circulars, Dividend Warrants, Invitations, Cards, &c., all of the same weight, to addresses in Hongkong, Bangkok, or the Ports of China and Japan, may deliver them to the Post Office unstamped, the postage being then charged to the sender's account. Each batch must consist of at least ten.

Local Parcel Post.

1. Small Parcels may be sent by Post between any of the British Post Offices in China or Japan, as well as to Macao, Peking, Singapore, Penang, and Malacca. They must not exceed the following dimensions: 2 feet long, 1 foot broad, 1 foot deep, nor weigh more than 5 lbs. The postage will be 20 cents per lb., which will include Registration. The parcels may be wholly closed if they bear this special endorsement, PARCELS, CONTAINING NO LETTERS, but any parcel may be opened by direction of the Postmaster General.

2. The following cannot be transmitted: Parcels insufficiently packed or protected, or liable to be crushed (as bandboxes, &c.) Glass, Liquids, Explosive substances, Matches, Indigo, Dyestuffs, Ice, Meat, Fish, Game, Fruit, Vegetables, or whatever is dangerous to the Mails, or likely to become offensive or injurious in transit.

3. Parcels will as a general rule be forwarded by Private Ship, not by Contract Mail Packet. The Post Office reserves the right of selecting the opportunity for transmission, and of delaying delivery in case the number of parcels is such as to retard other correspondence. No responsibility is accepted with regard to any parcel, but the system of Registration will secure the senders against any but a very remote probability of loss.

4. The public are cautioned not to confound these facilities with a Parcel Post to Europe, &c., which does not exist.

Mails exchanged with Manila and Saigon.

The Philippine Islands being now admitted into the General Postal Union, it follows that all paid correspondence received from Manila in the mails will be delivered free by this Office, and that all paid correspondence sent to Manila in the mails should be delivered free there.

Article IX of the Postal Treaty of Bern provides that "Neither the senders nor the addressees of letters and other postal packets shall be called upon to pay, either in the Country of Origin, or in that of Destination, any tax or duty other than the recognised rates levied (in the case of paid correspondence) by the despatching Office. It is hoped that any extra charge, or apparently extra charge, will at once be brought to the notice of the proper authorities, in either Colony.

The above does not apply in any to loose letters sent outside the mails. These will always be charged on arrival in Hongkong and probably the Manila Office will adopt the same course.

Complaints are sometimes received of extra charges on correspondence exchanged between this Colony and Saigon, but it is believed it would be found in all cases that the letters, &c., had been sent loose.

Any Foreign stamps on loose correspondence are obliterated in this Office.

Indian Correspondence.

Unpaid Letters are not received for the Indian Mail Packets.

The pre-payment of correspondence for the Straits, India, Ceylon, and Aden is compulsory by whatever opportunity it is forwarded.

Registration to Bangkok.

Her Britannic Majesty's Consul General for Siam has been good enough to make arrangements by means of which correspondence can be Registered to Bangkok, at the usual charge of 8 cents.

Soldiers' and Sailors' Letters.

Privates in H. M. Army or Navy, Non-commissioned Officers, Army Schoolmasters (not superintending or First Class), or Schoolmistresses may send half-ounce letters to the United Kingdom via Southampton

* But not Warrant Officers, viz., Assistant Engineer, Gunner, Boatswain, or Carpenter.

by British Packet, for one penny; or via Brindisi by British Packet for three pence. Hongkong stamps will prepay this class of correspondence exactly the same as Imperial Stamps.

Soldiers' and Sailors' letters are, however, charged as ordinary letters if they do not conform to the following regulations:—

1. Not to exceed half an ounce. No double letters are allowed.
2. If from a Soldier or Sailor, his class or description must be stated in full on the letter, and the commanding Officer must sign his name, with name of Regiment, or Ship, &c., in full.
3. If to a Soldier or Sailor, his class or description must be stated in full, with name of Regiment, or Ship, &c., in full.

Mails for the United Kingdom, &c. by French Packet.

Under instructions from the London Post Office, the Mails for the United Kingdom which have hitherto been forwarded via Marseilles, will henceforth be forwarded via Naples, as it is understood that a gain of twelve hours results from the adoption of this route.

As it would be extremely inconvenient to divide the mail, and no practical advantage would result from doing so, all correspondence intended for the United Kingdom by French Packet will be sent via Naples, even though marked via Marseilles.

An impression appears to prevail that correspondence for the Mediterranean stations, Gibraltar, Malta, Cyprus, the Levant, Turkey, &c., can be forwarded only by British Packet. It can be forwarded also by French Packet, and if so forwarded generally arrives a week earlier than if it had been detained for the British Mail.

The Post Office is not, by law, responsible for any loss or inconvenience which may arise from the non-delivery, mis-sending, or mis-delivery of any letter, book, or other postal packet (even if the packet be registered), nor is the Post Office responsible for any injury which a packet may sustain during its transmission.

To guard against such injury all postal packets which are likely to suffer from stamping or from great pressure should be placed in strong covers, and even with this precaution no fragile article should be sent through the Post. It should be remembered that every packet has to be handled several times; that it is exposed to considerable pressure and friction in the mail bag; and that, whenever the bag has in the course of its transmission to be transferred by means of the railway apparatus, the risk of injury is much increased.

No information can be given respecting letters which pass through a Post Office except to the persons to whom they are addressed; and in no other way is official information of a private character allowed to be made public. A Postmaster may, however, give an address if he has no reason to believe that the person whose address it is would disapprove of his doing so.

Postmasters are not allowed to return any letter or other packet to the writer or sender, or to any one else, or to delay forwarding it to its destination according to the address, even though a request to such effect be written thereon.

Postmasters are not bound to give change, nor are they authorised to demand change; and when money is paid at a Post Office, whether as change or otherwise, no question as to its right amount, goodness, or weight can be entertained after it has been removed from the counter.

Postmasters are not bound to weigh any letters or other packets for the public, but they may do so if their duty be not thereby impeded.

The practice of sealing letters passing to and from the East and West Indies, and other countries with hot climates, with wax (except such as is specially prepared), is attended with much inconvenience, and frequently with serious injury, not only to the letters so sealed but to the other letters in the mail, from the melting of the wax and adhesion of the letters to each other. The public are therefore recommended, in all such cases, to use either wafers or gum, and to advise their correspondents in the countries referred to, to do the same.

The registration of a packet makes its transmission much more secure, inasmuch as, under ordinary circumstances, a registered packet can be traced through its whole course; and thus the loss of a registered packet is a very rare occurrence. Nevertheless large sums of money or other articles of great value should not be sent through the post, even if the packet be registered; as the machinery of the Department is not arranged with a view to such transmission. By law, the Post Office is not responsible for the safe delivery of registered packets; though any officer who may neglect his duty on this point will be called to strict account. Sent in unregistered letters, valuable articles are exposed to risk, and offer a temptation which ought not to be created; and the Department cannot in any way undertake the safe conveyance of such packets. All inland or colonial letters, therefore, which contain coin, and all inland letters which contain watches or jewellery, even though they be posted without registration, are treated as registered, and charged on delivery with a double registration fee of eightpence in addition to the ordinary postage; and any such letters which cannot be registered in time to be forwarded by the Mail for which they are posted are detained for the next despatch. Even if the letter do not contain any article of intrinsic value, it should, if it be very important, be registered.

Most countries to which Hongkong forwards Correspondence having joined the General Postal Union or being probably about to do so, it is necessary that the following rules be strictly observed:

1. No Letter or Packet, whether to be registered or unregistered, can be received for Postage if it contains gold or silver money, jewels, precious articles, or anything that, as a general rule, is liable to Customs duties.

2. This Regulation prohibits the sending of Patterns of dutiable articles, unless the quantity sent be so small as to make the sample of no value.

3. The limits of weight allowed are as follows:—

Books and Papers:—to British Office, 5 lbs.; to the Continent, &c. 4 lbs. Patterns:—to British Office, 5 lbs. if without intrinsic value; to the Continent, &c., 8 oz.

PARCELS.—The public is reminded that, there is no such thing as Parcel Post to Europe, &c. Much trouble and disappointment is caused by persistent attempts to send small valuable trifles through the Post. Fans, Curios, Articles of Dress, Fancy Work, and similar presents are continually being refused, the senders having often spent more in Postage than would have paid the freight by steamer. No refund can be made on such parcels of the value of Stamps obliterated before the nature of the contents was discovered.

PATTERNS.—Some difficulty is experienced in obtaining a general understanding of what is a Pattern. It is a bona fide sample of goods which the sender has for sale, or of goods which he wishes to order. It is to consist of the smallest possible quantity compatible with showing what the goods are, and must have no intrinsic value.

To provide means of remitting small sums of money to or from this Colony and between the Ports of China and Japan, the Postmasters and Agents of this Office will in future be allowed (but not required) to purchase Hongkong Postage Stamps from foreign residents.

Between Hongkong and Shanghai, or Hongkong and Yokohama, however, in either direction, Money-Orders must be used.

The Stamps tendered for sale must not exceed $50 in value, must be perfectly clean, in good condition, and in strips of at least two, as no separate Stamps will be purchased. They must be presented personally or accompanied by a note.

The Postmaster or Agent may postpone purchasing if his public funds in hand are not sufficient, and he will refuse to purchase in any case which appears doubtful or suspicious. He is allowed to charge a Commission of one per cent on all Stamps purchased.

Indemnity for the Loss of a Registered Letter.

The following Regulations as to the Indemnity to be paid in certain cases on the loss of Registered correspondence have been made by His Excellency the Governor under Ordinance 10 of 1876, Section XII. The Post Office is not legally responsible for the safe delivery of Registered correspondence, but henceforth it will be prepared to make good the contents of such correspondence lost while passing through the Post, to the extent of $10, in certain cases, provided:—

1. That the sender duly observed all the conditions of Registration required.
2. That the letter was securely enclosed in a reasonably strong envelope.
3. That application was made to the Postmaster General of Hongkong immediately the loss was discovered, the envelope being invariably forwarded with such application unless it also is lost.

4. That the Postmaster General is satisfied that the loss occurred whilst the correspondence was in the custody of the British Postal administration in China, that it was not caused by any fault on the part of the sender, by destruction by fire, or shipwreck, nor by the dishonesty or negligence of any person not in the employment of the Hongkong Post Office.

5. No compensation can be paid for mere damage to fragile articles such as portraits, watches, handsomely bound books, &c., which reach their destination, although in a broken or deteriorated condition.

Money Order Regulations.

1.—Money Orders on the United Kingdom and the Straits Settlements are issued at Hongkong, Shanghai and Yokohama. Shanghai and Yokohama also issue on Hongkong and vice versa.

2.—Small sums may be remitted between the other Ports by means of Postage Stamps.

3.—Many Money Orders are supplied to residents at the smaller Ports in this way. An application for an order* is filled up and is enclosed with a stamped, directed, and unsealed envelope to the Postmaster at the nearest issuing office. The application must be accompanied with the full amount (including commission) in cheque, postage stamps, or other equivalent of cash, and a little margin should be left for variations of exchange. The Postmaster issues the order, sends it on in the envelope, and returns the change, if any, by first opportunity, with a receipt for the letter, if it were to be registered, as it always should be. Care should be taken to send these applications in time, as the Money Order Offices close some hours before the departure of the mails.

4.—No order must exceed £10, or include any fraction of a penny. Orders will be drawn at the current rate of the day and paid at the rate of the day when the advice arrived.

The commission is as follows:—

Orders on the United Kingdom.
Up to £25.....18 cents.
" £25.....36 "
" £27.....54 "
" £10.....72 "

Local Money Orders (including Straits Settlements).
Up to $25.....15 cents.
" 50.....30 "

5.—Lists of Money Order Offices in the United Kingdom may be consulted at Hongkong, Shanghai, and Yokohama.

6.—Names must be given in full (except when there is more than one Christian name) but the name of the Payee need not be given if the order be crossed (as cheques are crossed). It can then be paid only through a Bank, and may afterwards be specially crossed to any Bank.

7.—No order can be paid till the Payee have signed it in the proper place. An order can be transferred to another office on payment of an additional commission. In case of loss of an order, necessary for stopping payment, or the like, application should be made to the nearest Money Order Office for instructions.

8.—If the order be not presented within six months an additional commission will be charged; if not within twelve months, the money will be forfeited. When the order is once paid no further claim can be entertained.

9.—No order can be paid until the advice relative to it has been received.

* Made out on a printed form which is supplied gratis.

+ Local Orders on Shanghai are drawn at 3 per cent premium in all cases. A fixed dollar rate for drawing on the United Kingdom is in force at Shanghai.

Merchant Vessels in Hongkong Harbour.

Exclusive of late Arrivals and Departures reported to-day.

To facilitate finding the position of any vessel in the Harbour, the Anchorage is divided into eight Sections, commencing at Green Island. Vessels near the Hongkong shore are marked h., near the Kowloon shore k., and those in the body of the Shipping or midway between each shore are marked z., in conjunction with the figures denoting the sections.

Section.

1. From Green Island to the Gas Works.
2. From Gas Works to the Novelty Iron Works.
3. From Novelty Iron Works to the Harbour Master's Office.
4. From Harbour Master's to the P. and O. Co.'s Office.

Section.

5. From P. and O. Co.'s Office to Peddar's Wharf.
6. From Peddar's Wharf to the Naval Yard.
7. From Naval Yard to the Pier.
8. From Pier to East Point.
